Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 24 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Murky with outbreaks of rain.

This Evening and Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain pushing north overnight, heavy at times initially but tending to ease by the early hours. A little snow possible over the highest parts of the Peak District. Quite misty and murky, with hill fog likely. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Saturday:
Remaining rather cloudy through Christmas Day with patchy light rain and drizzle, this becoming more frequent during the afternoon. Feeling chilly in a brisk breeze. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Early rain on Boxing Day clearing to the north with showers and brighter interludes following. Drier with patchy cloud and some brightness on Monday and Tuesday, and also turning milder.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.